OMIN2MAX wins $5 billion Seaport-E Prime contract

Omni2max has been awarded a Seaport-e ID/IQ Prime Contract with the Navy worth more than $5 billion.

Under the Seaport-e vehicle, Omni2max Inc. will provide support to the U.S. Navy for all phases of weapons-systems acquisition and life-cycle support. Omni2max now joins a select group of large and small companies entitled to bid on Navy contracts through the paperless Web-based procurement system.

"Obtaining this important Seaport-e prime contract has been one of our top priorities, and winning one is extremely important to the future and growth of our company," states Omni2Max President and CEO Allen Maxwell. "It was something we needed to accomplish as part of our strategic foundation for growth. If you don't have access to this critical contracting system, you can't effectively do business with the Navy."

Through Seaport-e, Omni2max can now bid to offer services in 21 functional areas. They include research and development, prototyping, acquisition logistics, modeling, testing and evaluation, and engineering support for the Naval Sea Systems Command, Naval Air Systems Command, Space and Naval Warfare Systems Command, Naval Supply Systems Command, Military Sealift Command, Naval Facilities Engineering Command, Strategic Systems Programs and the United States Marine Corps.

Omni2max, Inc. is a progressive systems engineering and program management company focusing on GPS Systems Engineering, Operational Test and Evaluation, and Help Desk/ Shared Services Program Management. The company's top two senior executives combine over 70 years of military, federal and government contracting service and experience. Through strategic teaming agreements with numerous defense contracting companies, Omni2max offers a corporation of talented program managers, engineers, and IT professionals spanning all (7) Seaport-e geographic zones.

Omni2max Inc was founded in November 2007 as an independent consulting firm by Allen F. Maxwell, a retired Navy officer and former high positioned federal government employee. Omni2Max Inc., is a certified Small Disadvantaged, Minority and Service Disabled Veteran-Owned Business Enterprise headquartered in San Diego, California.
